

Each Child Matters and Ideas, Tools & Strategies for Inclusion

Each Child Matters and Ideas, Tools & Strategies for Inclusion is an inclusion training guide for early childhood educators, directors, other professionals and parents who work to develop and/or sustain quality inclusive early childhood environments.

This training consists of 26 hours and is typically done in two weekends. Participants will receive a copy of the Ideas, Tools & Strategies for Inclusion guide that highlights specific strategies and resources early childhood professionals can use while supporting children with a disability or additional need.

New Brunswick Association for Community Living (NBACL) Focus on Inclusion Program, in partnership with the Department of Education & Early Childhood Development, periodically delivers inclusion training to childcare staff, community partners, and parents.

These trainings equip early childcare staff with the tools and resources to support children with a disability and/or additional need in a childcare setting.

All trainings are essential for providing a high quality, inclusive childcare environment for children, families, and staff.

For additional information on any of the trainings, please contact your local Early Learning Inclusion Facilitator or Manager of Early Learning & Inclusive Childcare.

Engage, Reflect & Plan

This 8 hour training will assist early learning staff to explore creative ways to actively engage with children and their families. The importance of using reflection as an effective strategy that can assist when planning for all children to actively participate in their early learning experience is a main focus within this training. Engage, Reflect & Plan is an opportunity to learn more about how to engage with all children and families, how to reflect on practices and principles in order to enhance inclusion strategies, and how to plan for individualization in early learning environments so all children can fully and meaningfully participate.

About NBACL

NBACL works to ensure that people with intellectual disabilities, with the support of their families, have the option to choose the supports they need to live meaningful lives and participate in their communities as valued and contributing members.

Quality Inclusion Measurement Tool

Specialink's Quality Inclusion Measurement Tool (QIMT) is used to assess inclusion quality in early childhood centres and for helping centres move toward higher quality inclusion.

This 12 hour training provides participants with direction and practice on how to score specific principles and practices of inclusion based on what can be observed in early learning environments.

Over 3000 Canadian early childhood professionals have been trained to use the QIMT. It has become a mandatory measure of inclusion quality in most provinces and it is a recommended tool in others.

Moving Inclusion Forward

Moving Inclusion Forward is a 14 hour training opportunity that will increase leadership in inclusive practices, provide an introduction to policy development, and discuss the key elements of sustaining a quality inclusive environment.

Participants will receive an over view of the rights of children, the rights of persons with disabilities, and the importance of including these policies within their centre practices and philosophies. Moving Inclusion Forward is the fourth piece of training offered by NBACL.

Those who have completed all trainings offered by the association will receive a 60 hour inclusion excellence certificate.
